OPPOSITION BY CLAIMANT SUSAN STASHOWER (CLAIM NO. 33326) TO THE DEBTORS' ONE HUNDRED AND NINETIETH OMNIBUS OBJECTION TO CLAIMS (NO LIABILITY SECURITY)

TO: THE HONORABLE JAMES M. PECK, U.S. BANKRUPTCY JUDGE:

Susan Stashower, claimant number 33326 hereby opposes the Debtors' One Hundred and Ninetieth Omnibus Objection to claims wherein the Debtors' have sought to disallow or expunge my claim based upon the contention that Security Holders have asserted a claim for which the loss incurred when they sold a security on which LBHI may have been an obligor, however, the Debtors are not liable to the Security Holder for any losses involved.

1. I filed my initial proof of claim with the Bankruptcy Court on September 18, 2009 after my inquiry to my financial adviser, Charles Natt, at Morgan Stanley Smith Barney. He advised me that on January 16, 2008 I Purchased 700 shares of LEH.N at $22.84 for a total of $15,998.28. On September 11, 2008 he advised me that I sold 350 shares of LEH.N at $7.96 for a total of $2,780.73. The difference is $13,217.55 and this is the amount of my claim. I still own the other 350 shares.

2. I did not file the back-up documentation from Morgan Stanley with my original proof of claim but I submitted the documentation together with my Opposition to the Debtors' Thirty-First Omnibus Objection To Claims seeking to disallow or expunge my claim on the basis of insufficient documentation of the claim and so the Court could readily confirm the aforementioned facts. As a result, the Debtors' previous objection to my claim was withdrawn by Notice of Withdrawal dated November 17, 2010.

3. I oppose the Debtors' motion to disallow or expunge my claim based upon the contention that Security Holders have asserted a claim for which the loss incurred when they sold a security on which LBHI may have been an obligor, however, the Debtors are not liable to the Security Holder for any losses involved..

4. Such a contention was never set forth in the information for submission of proofs of claim and the Court should protect the interests of all creditors.

WHEREFORE, the Debtors' motion to disallow or expunge my claim should be denied in all respects and my claim allowed in all respects.
